Sanford's Ginger.
Sanford's Ginger is the Quintessence of all that is Preventive and Curative in Medicine or Confinements.

Fruit of all kinds serve to call attention to those little disturbances in the digestive organs which cause such distresses at certain seasons, and for which SANFORD'S GINGER is so speedy and effective a remedy.

It is a delicious combination of Imported Ginger, Cloves, Aniseed, Cinnamon, Brandy, totally unlike and vastly superior to other "gingers," pain curers, and nauseating tonics.

Fruit fruit, impure water, unhealthy climate, unwholesome food, Malaria, Epidemic and Contagious Diseases, Consumption, Consumption, Indigestion, Colds, Chills, Fevers, Rheumatism, Nervousness, Loss of sleep, that the very best remedies for these diseases are nothing to those protected by SANFORD'S GINGER.

As a remunerative, with water, salts, cold water, lemon-juice, emetics, draughts, and mineral waters, it is the best.

It eradicates a craving for Intoxicants in those addicted to their use, strengthens the nerves, assists digestion, and helps to bring up the results produced by disease, debility, and disorganization.

Mothers worth the care of a matron of the world, who are nursing their infants, should take a dose of this delicious and hygienic, yet never remedy possessed so many advantages as did the delicate women, young children, and the aged.

The recent rains have been a blessed good thing for the corn crop. It is predicted it will be light at best.

Hon. Sumner L. Ellsworth of Washington, D. C., chief of the life saving service, has been on an inspecting tour through the east.

At the Eastern State Fair, Clarence A. Garand of Bangor, bought of E. A. Hale of Lakeview farm, Windthrop Center, a fine Southdown buck, A. S. Hale of Stetson, bought of H. C. Green of Naples, of two sets of red Dutch oxen, one 6 years old, 7 1/2, 6 in., weight 3550 lbs.

Governed by the calendar month, summer took its flight on Friday. The vacation season has closed, and the rested and refreshed ones are returning to their homes; the blinds are thrown open, the stable doors undrawn, and there are many evidences of life and animation about many household that have been closed for many weeks. Business men are back in their counting rooms, and the wheels of business go round again.

The Pioneer Press reviews the first year of high license in Minnesota, and finds the system of payment to their friends failing to fit. There are the same 1867 saloons now, as against 3800 when the law went into effect. A decrease in the consumption of liquor is shown in nearly every county. Low groceries have been sold at a loss, and the liquor license is under police inspection. Under the new system the average cost of a license was about $300 and the total approximate income was about $850,000. Under high license the average cost of permission to sell is about $650 and the total approximate income is about $1,100,000.

We have already referred to the large importance of the new system to the Provincial Government of New Brunswick, in the letters published from there during the summer. We are glad to be able to announce the safe arrival at Quebec of the second purchase, consisting of two sets of fine, well-bred, four full-blood sheep of different breeds. These are brought over by the Government to be scattered over the Provinces, and used by the farmers in the breeding of a better class of stock than that produced. What can be more good news than that will flow from this generous policy?

The next reunion of the Eleventh Maine Volunteers will be held at Boston, Mass., Sept. 19th and 20th. All the survivors of the regiment will meet at Charles Russell's Hotel, 1 A. E. Street, Washington street, on 19th, and at the Hotel of the State on 20th, which meeting the festivities for the two days will be made known. Gen. Benj. F. Butler, commander of the Army of the James, has been present to present and address his old comrades. Excursion rates on all the cars will be $1.00. All the men of that command who can attend this reunion, will send a postal card to that effect to the chairman of the committee, W. H. Andrews, at 28 State St., Boston, early as possible.

The Farmer undertakes to instruct no man how to vote, or for which party he shall cast his political influence; but we do not mean to do this, and we prize it as well as any other. It is a nameless name of an American citizen who is all the time enjoying the privileges of our magnificent government, but is unwilling or neglects to assume the responsibility of such. Some of the people are not so ignorant as this, and deem themselves too holy to be snubbed by the dirty water of politics, not putting forth a single honest effort for the purification of those waters.

In the interest of the country, it is in the interest of the citizenry, that all the people take a personal interest in political matters; and study and weigh the questions presented and states at stake, and then vote intelligently, and without fear, favor or intimidation.

The awarding of the premiums was slow at Bangor, particularly in the cattle and sheep classes, and were not all completed until nearly time for the exhibition to break up. The cattle and sheep classes had been for the awarding committee to decorate the winners with the badges of honor won at the time the decisions are made, but in this case the ribbons were held in the hands of the recording clerk until the last day, and for a week a vote of voters came and went without being able to learn which animals won the blue. The judges in the cattle classes were Provincial gentlemen, and whether this tardiness was due to the slow and tedious meetings alleged at the time of the awarding of the badges, does not appear. Certain it is, the lessons of the fair loss much of their importance where visitors are not permitted to study the winners.

There is a gloomy outlook in the Old World, where the crops are said to be a dire and dismal failure. It now seems that there are more than 100,000,000 of people in Europe, Russia, 100,000,000, India, 600,000,000, but in these latter countries there is much more uncertainty than in the former.

What adds to the serious aspect of the period is the sad failure of the potato crop in Ireland, and the severe winter along the west coast of Ireland. This alone would have made a bad winter there, and combined with dear bread it is a gloomy enough outlook.

We had the privilege of a call on Tuesday from the smartest old man in the vicinity, Mr. Ellis Stevens of Readfield, who rounded out the century of his life on the 1st of August. He is a man of "hale and hearty," with smooth face, clear eyes, erect form, and apparently undiminished and unimpaired faculties. He had just come down to town to trade, had made several purchases, and was going to make a real pleasure to take him by the hand and to ride his vigor and heartiness. His long life and well preserved condition he attributes to entire abstinence from all liquors that taste, and to a strict diet. He has a good appetite, and is a good谈人. His usual weight was 180 pounds, "yes," said the old gentleman, his face lighting up with pride at the recollection, "I used to be able to take care of myself, and to ride him when the time came." The old man was in little condition when the seed was put in to little evanescence, and his forests had been burned over. The first plowing he saw was done with a wooden plow. He was born in Belgrade, and has lived here and in the greater part of his life. He is a member of the Free Soil Society, and will be regarded sufficiently to exhibit in the procession at the coming Sesquicentennial.

The names of Maine parents were, of course, Geo. A. Hale and wife, and their two children, one half of whom are living, and the other a womanhood. There is seen to be a family reunion at the home of his son, Daniel Stevens in Smithfield, where the old gentleman will be the centre of attraction.

MAINE COMPARED WITH CALIFORNIA.—We bethink us in this vicinity will be ready to conclude that Mr. Ira D. Sturges, of this city, is one of the keenest observers of men and things we have among us. All this is what he has recently told us. Califormia, he says, "I traveled in the State by rail 200 miles and with horses about 300 miles and yet I saw but little of the country, but from what I did see and learned, I satisfied myself and that was about a half dozen times to join the procession and some of the experts engaged in drawing matches, nevertheless the grand cavalcade of Friday was not witnessed by thousands.
